EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Christopher J. Palermo on May 16, 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Claim 7;

Line 10, replace "discarding the all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly" with –discarding all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly--;

Claim 19;

Line 11, replace "discarding the all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly" with –discarding all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly--;

Claim 32;

Line 11, replace "means for discarding the all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly" with –means for discarding all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly--;

Claim 40;

Line 13, replace "discarding the all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly" with –discarding all TCP segments that are in the re-assembly--;

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's argument in the amendment filed on April 18, 2006 that the Peterson prior art discloses ignoring bytes outside the sequence number range is based on the sequence number and not the ACK value as claimed (Remarks, pgs. 13-16) is persuasive; hence claims 1-6 are allowed. Moreover, applicant's argument that neither Peterson nor Zuk disclose removing all TCP segments in the re-assembly buffer when data carried in a received TCP segment having a sequence value equal to a next expected sequence value overlaps with data carried in one or more TCP segments that were previously received in the re-assembly buffer (Remarks, pgs. 16-17) is persuasive, specifically, the feature of removing all the TCP segments from a buffer is not disclosed in the prior art of record when data of a plurality of segments overlap; hence, claims 7-14 are allowed. The subject matter of the remaining claims 18-47 corresponds in scope either to claims 1-6 or 7-14, and as such, they are allowed as well.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
